District Steel Production Is Being Resumed

Postponement Of Steel Strike Creates Optimism That Tieup May Be Averted

PARLEY WEDNESDAY MAY SETTLE ISSUES

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 14.—(INS)—A wave of quiet optimism swept through the nation's steel capital today as banks furnaces burst forth in full flame and molten metal once again shimmered in giant open hearths.

Thousands of steel laborers, granted a one-week reprieve from a strike call which would have affected 40 per cent of the country's industrial output within two weeks, went willingly back to their jobs in mills revitalized by the hope that an agreement would be reached before next Sunday midnight in the wage dispute involving more than 700,000 CIO United Steelworkers.

Resuming Production
U. S. Steel Corporation spokesmen said production was being resumed as quickly as the men returned to their jobs and at the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company the mills were geared to 95 per cent of capacity production this week.

Other producers, however, didn't take any chances and most of them began banking their furnaces Friday and Saturday, dropping thousands of workers from their payrolls under sharp curtailment schedules.

Resuming Schedules
At nearby Youngstown, O., and Johnstown, steel mills also were reported resuming production schedules, although it was pointed out that it may take days in some instances to get back up to "normal."

The wave of optimism sweeping the area today was in sharp contrast to the feeling of pessimism which prevailed union and company sources last Friday and Saturday.

Even among the workers, the feeling seemed to be that CIO President Philip Murray and U. S. Steel's Benjamin Fairless soon would reach an accord, possibly at Wednesday's (Continued on Page Two)

PA NEW OBSERVES

After almost two weeks of modest temperatures, Saturday's return of cold weather, which was accompanied by high winds, caused local residents to shiver over the weekend.

With four traffic fatalities in the county so far this year, it is feared that the record for the year will far exceed those of previous years, unless greater precautions are taken by drivers and pedestrians in the matter of safety.

New fire department building being erected by the Neshannock Township Volunteer Fire department, is about ready for the roof, it is noted.

Autos were parked around North Hill streets on Sunday afternoon for many blocks in all directions from the Cathedral, indicating the large turnout at the mass meeting being held at the auditorium, under direction of ministers of the city.

Citizens who were in the downtown section of the city late Sunday evening were bewildered for a while as to what the various stores were offering to the public for sale. An over-exuberant pedestrian was removing outside advertisements from one store and carrying them up the street a ways to another store and attaching them to the window of a store carrying entirely different merchandise.

President And Advisors Hope For Settlement Of Steel Industry Dispute

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—(INS)—The steel industry went about the job of restoring full production today after being granted a week's reprieve in the scheduled strike of 700,000 steel workers.

Operations generally had been curtailed, furnaces banked and many workers sent home in anticipation of a walkout at midnight last night which was averted by the intervention of President Truman.

Industry representatives in Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Chicago and other steel areas indicated it would take several days to resume full production.

Hope For Settlement
Mentime, President Truman and his top advisors maintained high hopes that the steel wage dispute will be settled before the new strike deadline arrives—midnight January 20.

New York Long Distance Service Is Nearing Normal

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—(INS)—New York's long distance telephone service returned to near normalcy today despite continued presence of picket lines around the city's major telephone exchanges.

Officials of the American Telephone and Telegraph company said that at 8:30 a. m. EST, 70 per cent of long distance operators, who had been honoring the picket lines, had returned to work.

Picketing of most of the exchanges in 44 states by striking Western Electric phone installation employees continued, at least temporarily.

Ernest Weaver, president of the Association of Communications Equipment Workers Union, representing the installation employees, said locals throughout the nation were being polled on the request of 262,000 unionized telephone operators to call off the pickets until February 16 when the operators plan to strike if their demands are not met.

Western Union New York Strike Is Continuing

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—(INS)—Both sides remained adamant today as the strike of 7,000 telegraph employees in New York against Western Union kept the metropolis isolated telegraphically from the rest of the nation for the sixth day.

President Joseph P. Selly of the striking CIO American Communications Association reiterated the union's intention to remain out until wage demands are granted.

New Japanese Cabinet Begins Official Duties

Five New Members Are Approved—General Election Is Scheduled After March 15

By FRANK ROBERTSON
TOKYO, Jan. 14.—A Japanese government spokesman announced today that Gen. Douglas MacArthur has approved five cabinet replacements who were appointed to fill the posts of ministers affected by the Allied purge directive.

Investiture ceremonies for the new ministers were held in the presence of Emperor Hirohito at the Imperial Palace last night.

The reshuffled cabinet will take up the reins of government under the watchful eye of MacArthur's headquarters at its first meeting tomorrow.

Premier Baron Kijuro Shidehara was not expected to attend the first meeting since he is convalescing from an attack of pneumonia. The 73-year-old Shidehara was treated with penicillin supplied by the U. S. Army Medical corps and may resume his duties within a week's time.

Five New Members
The five new cabinet members whom MacArthur gave a clean bill of health were: Chuizo Mitsuuchi, 76, who was given the two portfolios of home and transportation; Nomi Abe, 64, minister of education; Sempachi Soejima, minister of agriculture and forestry; Takashige Ishiguro, director of the board of legislation; and Wataru Narahashi, chief cabinet secretary.

Although all these men have at one time or another held various official posts in Japan, they apparently had indulged in no known objectionable activities connected with Japan's totalitarian and ultra-nationalistic policies.

The reshuffled cabinet took up its duties shortly after MacArthur announced that he has authorized the Imperial government to hold a general election anytime after March 15 for members of the House of Representatives.

UNO To Discuss Atomic Energy

Control Problem To Come Before General Assembly In London Soon

NATIONS WILL PUT VIEWS ON RECORD
By KINGSBURY SMITH
(U. N. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Jan. 14.—A discussion of world political problems, including a six-power resolution for atomic energy control, will be opened in the UNO general assembly today or tomorrow by U. S. Secretary of State James E. Byrnes.

The American delegation leader, who will inaugurate general debate on the UNO preparatory committee report, described the control of atomic energy as "of tragic importance to mankind."

A. Y. Vishinsky, chief of the Soviet delegation, was expected to arrive in London from Moscow in time to participate in the debate, which will permit each of the 51 nations to put its views on record.

Russia, Britain, the United States, France, China and Canada agreed in their resolution that a committee be formed to strive for the following objectives:

1. International exchange of scientific information for peaceful ends.
 2. Control of atomic energy to the extent necessary to limit its use to peaceful purposes.
 3. Elimination from national armaments of atomic weapons and all other weapons adaptable to mass destruction.
 4. Effective means of inspection to safeguard states complying with the foregoing conditions.
- The question of inspection apparently remains a source of friction between the Moscow signatories. The Russians maintain the wording of the agreement permits inspection of atomic bomb plants. The American insist it does not.

Congress Is Resuming To Face Large Array Of Pressing Problems

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—(INS)—Congress reconvenes today in the midst of national concern over deep-rooted labor disturbances and continuing G. I. protests against demobilization delays.

At the end of a three-weeks Christmas recess, the legislators return to the capital where their first order of business will be to attend an informal meeting tomorrow to hear top military and naval leaders explain why millions of servicemen are being kept overseas.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, army chief of staff, is expected to announce a further revision of the point system, and its possible abandonment late this winter.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, chief of naval operations, will tell the navy side of the story. In an apparent effort to keep the army demonstrations from spreading to the naval forces.

Perfunctory Sessions
Both the Senate and House will hold perfunctory sessions today, and then recess until Thursday to receive President Truman's first annual report on the state of the union. Mr. Truman is expected to reiterate his insistence on a legislative program encompassing many recommendations previously made to Congress, but not acted upon before the Christmas recess.

Congress was still unprepared to act speedily on fact-finding legislation requested by the President as a means of dealing with the increasing array of strikes.

Both houses will receive the President's budget message on Jan. 21. He is expected to call for about forty billion dollars of government expenditures during the first post-war fiscal year, beginning July 1.

Picket Lines Are Removed In New York

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—(INS)—Members of the Association of Communications Equipment Engineers, whose strike led to the disruption of long-distance telephone service, were ordered back to work today as telephone service returned to near normalcy.

The association, placed in a confused position when its parent body, the National Federation of Telephone Workers, ordered a strike of its 363,000 members but withheld action for 30 days, told members to report back for work by 1 p. m. (EST).

Long distance operators, out since Friday, previously had swarmed through picket lines over the nation in compliance with instructions from their national headquarters. Picket lines subsequently were removed by the striking ACEW.

Orders to strike were received from Neil Brent, Washington representative of the union, who notified the locals that the two companies have rejected proposals to avert a shutdown.

In Pittsburgh pickets will begin manning the gates of the Westinghouse plants at East Pittsburgh, Lawrenceville and Homewood at 7 a. m. when the last night shift worker is expected to walk out.

Twenty-four hour picket lines will be formed and fines have been established as penalties to those who failed to participate.

Service Nearing Normalcy Over Most Of Nation

Withdrawal Of Pickets Around Telephone Plants Is Under Way

OPERATORS ARE AGAIN AT WORK

(By International News Service)
Most of the nation had normal telephone service today following the decision of the National Federation of Telephone Workers to postpone its threatened strike 30 days.

In a few places picket lines established by installation workers had not yet been withdrawn, bringing about a certain amount of confusion, but throughout the country generally telephone service was adequate.

By WILLIAM UMSTEAD
(U. N. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Telephone service gradually was nearing normalcy throughout most of the country today and withdrawal of picket lines from nearly all striking installations was expected.

Strike leaders were being polled on a request that picket lines be lifted from exchanges in 44 states until Feb. 16 when a nationwide strike of operators will be called if demands are not met.

Return To Work
In New York, more than 70 per cent of long distance operators who had been honoring picket lines returned to work and all picket lines around Bell Telephone Exchanges in Philadelphia were withdrawn.

Detroit operators were ordered to report for work despite Association of Communications Equipment workers' pickets patrolling the installations.

Long distance service still was halted in Washington, however, by a continuous meeting of operators protesting local working conditions.

The request that the picket lines be halted was made by Joseph P. Beirne, president of the National Federation of Telephone Workers union, which threatens to stage a nationwide walkout in 30 days.

Ernest Weaver, president of the ACEW, immediately began a poll of local unions to determine what action they would take on the request.

Halt Picket Lines
Weaver said the picket lines would be maintained until a majority of (Continued on Page Two)

Phone Service Back To Normal

Pickets Withdrawn At Bell Telephone Company Plant On South Mercer St.

Telephone service here went back to a normal basis today, following announcement from the headquarters of the National Federation of Telephone Workers to call a general strike on a 30-day notice under the provisions of the Smith-Connally Act.

This will give the telephone companies throughout the nation and the various unions affected an opportunity to settle their differences without cessation of service for a 30-day period.

Pickets Withdrawn
As a result, pickets were withdrawn from the telephone office on South Mercer street, and the line-men, who had voted to respect the picket lines previously established, returned to their duties.

The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania yesterday announced the signing of a contract between the company and the Pennsylvania Telephone Guild providing for a $5 a week increase for all business office employees in the state, totaling about 1,300. This increase represents a post-war adjustment in wages. The contract was signed after discussions lasting several months.

The locals had voted in abandoning them, although they were halted early today in several cities, including Philadelphia and Washington, D. C.

Thousands of long-distance telephone operators had refused to cross the picket lines set up when 7,400 Equipment Workers walked out as a result of a wage dispute with the Western Electric Company.

The 48 local unions of the NPTW are under orders to file 30-day strike notices in accordance with provisions of the Smith-Connally act. A walkout of NPTW members would result in complete disruption of the nation's telephone system, including practically all news service and radio network wires.

Seizure Threat Removed
Belne's action in requesting withdrawal of the pickets temporarily removed any threat of government seizure and operation of the gigantic American telephone system.

A nationwide strike of 250,000 telephone workers in 30 days, however, probably would bring about federal action to take over the communications system.

Belne said that the union had been notified by "responsible government officials" that the telephone network may be seized if a strike takes place.

The labor leader said that in the event of seizure the union would "explore all legal angles" before continuing a strike against government-operated facilities. Later, in a radio interview on the Mutual Broadcasting System he said his union would not strike "against the government."

A NPTW spokesman explained that a nationwide walkout would lead to a paralyzing shutdown of news service wires, telephone service, radio network lookups, brokerage circuits, ship-to-shore telephone services, and some overseas communications lines.

The spokesman said that telephone, radio, ship-to-shore and overseas lines would be closed down immediately while news service and brokerage wires would break down within a week from lack of maintenance.

At the conclusion of his address, Mr. LeTourneau extended an invitation to all to become business men or women for God with the result that several accepted his invitation, moving to the front of the auditorium to have "a word of prayer" with America's No. 1 Christian business man.

are "about three to one in favor of a settlement."

CIO President Philip Murray acceded to the president's request for postponement of the strike after a four-hour wage conference at the White House.

Negotiations were marking time today while Benjamin F. Fairless, president of U. S. Steel, consulted with his associates in the firm and possibly with representatives of other companies on the steel workers' demand for a 10 and one-half cent hourly pay boost.

This figure represents a reduction from the union's original request for a 25-cent hourly increase. U. S. Steel has offered 15 cents and the two parties were said to have stuck to their respective positions throughout the White House negotiations.

Worst Traffic Year?

All the fervor and enthusiasm with which the brave new year started out did not diminish by one iota its liability to be the worst in traffic mishaps since the old horseless carriage became the automobile. Already they are rapidly mounting.

Gasoline rationing and speed limits in the war helped to keep the figures down on the principle of less driving, fewer accidents. Removal of controls has a reverse effect and it comes at a time when the average car is more than eight years old, equipped with inadequate tires and perhaps poor brakes, and needing a thorough overhauling, which it often cannot get for lack of parts. The problem is intensified by strikes which make it unlikely that as many new cars will be available this year as was expected six months ago.

That is the mechanical side of a rather frightening picture. But it has its human side, which counts just as threateningly. In addition to a crop of new drivers there are millions returned or returning from the war. Some of them have not driven for several years. This has its risks, to which veteran drivers, who saw no war service, are equally contributing.

H. J. Brunnier, president of the American Automobile Association, is undoubtedly right in insisting that "the need for safety must be impressed directly upon the man at the wheel and the person about. Cooperation of every driver and of every pedestrian is needed, and needed now."

Not all fatal traffic accidents, by any means, are attributable to drivers. Gone are the the "Stop, look, listen" signs that marked railroad crossings before the days of track elevation and depression. But it is an admonition that ought to be impressed upon the mind of every pedestrian. By the thousands every day pedestrians start across important intersections without waiting for the green lights. Eager motorists too often let up the clutch as soon as the yellow shows.

Therefore, if the number of fatalities and maiming accidents is to be kept down, both drivers and pedestrians must contribute to the result. Obviously the police cannot be everywhere to watch drivers and pedestrians.

Great Task Well Done

Global role of the naval air transport service in winning the war has been told in a report and analysis prepared under the direction of Rear Admiral J. W. Reeves Jr., its commander. It is the revealing document of a flying supply arm that became a fleet command in itself, with 429 sky transports and 26,604 in its personnel.

The figures, showing a high of 39,732,000 ton miles flown in August, 1945, over a vast network of routes totalling 63,251 miles, are for the record. The gripping human story and the real importance of the work lie in the vital contributions to battles won, in lives saved and in morale kept high.

In countless instances NATS fliers supplied the one vital link necessary to forge a complete chain of material support for the success of a planned tactical operation. It was in the Pacific war, where time and distance were of the element, that the transport service made its greatest contribution to victory.

Flame throwers were in critical demand at Tarawa. In Chicago, the only source of supply, NATS loaded five flights and landed 25,000 pounds of them on Tarawa. During the Okinawa campaign NATS provided a shuttle to Guam, evacuating wounded from the battle and flying shells back.

NATS was everywhere, performing countless tasks. It delivered key personnel where it was needed quickly. It carried the mail. It delivered life-saving blood and plasma. It flew a giant propeller in pieces to a disabled battleship.

The air transport service was the Navy's answer to the challenge of "Too little and too late." It earned its right to be a permanent and integral part of America's military establishment. The armed services and the people of the nation salute NATS.

Mechanized Farming

Decrease in farm population is not evidence that agriculture is languishing. In fact, the reverse is true. While there are many thousands fewer families residing on the land, production has continued to increase. Mechanization took a new spurt in the last five years.

A survey recently completed in Nemaha county, Kansas, has revealed that the empty houses vacated by those who are unable to find living quarters in towns and cities are on the farms. In that county 357 families left farms in five years. In 1940 there were 2,187 farms. In March of 1945 there were 1,830. Average acreage had increased from 197 to 225.

Nemaha is a corn county. Production has doubled in the period which has shown decrease in farm population. Because of improved mechanical equipment, especially corn harvesters, an additional 21,000 acres was planted. There are five times as many corn pickers as in 1940. 420 more tractors. Machines are doing the tasks formerly performed by men on the farms.

Well, I don't say things couldn't be worse. All I know is that it's a bad day for Pittsburgh when you can hang white clothes on the line.

In Miami they give a newspaper away any day you can't see the sun. In Pittsburgh they begin printing relief tickets any day you can.

We have settled China's civil war, reshuffled the Jap cabinet again, looked into things in the Balkans and the headlines still read "strikes spread."

There must be another topic of conversation but who can dispense of a toothache with one "ouch!"

I understand that when General Marshall called "Washington" "peace" has descended on China. "Washington" called back: "It's about time... it is here weeks ago."

And when Chungking said "Thanks for sending us Marshall to end our civil war" Washington said "Not at all but who are you sending us?"

Of course Marshall's method would never work here. The general said "You will each have to yield a little." And both did... proving definitely that the Chinese have a long way to go before they catch up to us.

Let me know if you don't get this. Wires, phones and my garters are all down.

WASHINGTON CALLING

By MARQUIS CHILDS

'You Americans Are Too Peace Loving'

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The last time Rust General Eisenhower met with his friends Marshall, Zuckor, they had a heart to heart about the military problems of occupied Europe.

Having met often before on a friendly basis, the two could speak more frankly than is the custom when Russian and American officials sit down together. General Ike and Russia's No. 1 fighting man got down to cases on Europe's future.

The growing discontent within the ranks of America's army of occupation was no secret to Zuckor. The evidences of it even then, long before the current flap, could not be missed. Finally Zuckor said:

Too Peace-Loving

"You Americans are too peace-loving. It is all very well to love peace. But you carry it too far in your country."

This was shortly before Eisenhower was to return to Washington to take over what he knew would be the extremely difficult and unhappy assignment as chief of staff. The contrasts between the Soviet Union and the United States in the matter of military training and military preparedness must have occurred to the American as he said goodbye to his Russian friend.

In Russia all youths are conscripted at the age of seventeen for a minimum of three years of military training and a maximum of seven years. They are subject to call at any time.

At present new Soviet troops are on their way to Germany to be trained as an occupation force. They will be trained with new weapons out of Russia's arsenal.

Restore Discipline

While Russian occupation forces got out of hand after V-E Day in many instances, discipline is being restored and occupying forces living off the land remain in important areas in eastern Europe and the Middle East. They are tangible evidence of the power of the Soviet Union.

The contrast with our own peace-loving nation is indeed striking. It is pointed up by the fact that some Americans who are the loudest about bringing the boys home and about the offenses of the brass hats are those who think Russia can do no wrong. It is apparently all right for Russia to have military conscription and an army of many millions but all wrong for the United States to hold together even a force sufficient to live up to our occupation commitments.

The line of attack on our own military that finds the most immediate response is the suggestion that the brass hats want to keep as many men in uniform as possible so they can maintain their present high rank. Our tradition is of anti-militarism that we are immediately suspicious when a war has ended, of the peace-time ambitions of military men.

Guilt Complex

Partly, it seems to me, this is a guilt complex. We handed over so much authority during the war, contrary to all our deepest impulses as was indeed the whole business of wholesale killing, that now we cannot bring ourselves to forgive the men whom we insist on blaming for the whole thing.

Of course, there's a right to keep rank. It happens after every war. And it may be related to estimates of the size of our forces overseas. In both the army and the navy some high-ranking officers have done a lot of foolish talking about the bases we are to man in various odd corners of the world.

But before we stampede in mad pursuit of the wicked "brass," we ought to remember that we—meaning the elected representatives of the people in congress—have never provided an adequate peace-time army for a nation with our world responsibility and world power. While the navy has got more consideration, the army has been treated in times of peace like a defective steplchild who must be kept out of sight.

Human nature is human nature in uniform or out. Before the war many of our generals were stuck in dreary army posts on tiny salaries. The little woman was doing the washing herself. Overnight they were rocketed into positions of authority over men and money.

The way out of the present mess does not lie in stripping ourselves of all our power in order to punish the brass, a sane approach will not be based on anything so petty. (Copyright, 1946, United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Health Talks

LONELINESS

Loneliness is something which must be experienced to be appreciated.

A person who had been separated from his family or friends know what loneliness is. Home sickness is terrible even when there is a home to go to.

To be alone with nobody there is worse. Would it be a good thing if we had some place where lonely people could get together to help pass the time?

Many lonely persons would be glad to contribute to the upkeep of a place where elderly people would be more comfortable than on park benches.

Grand dad and Uncle Joe would like to get out for an hour or two and have some place to go every day. Aunt Jane needs more than the Ladies Aid to keep her from talking to herself.

Grandmother has a nice home with Nancy but she likes to talk to people of her own age whose lives are a little too dim to see the wrinkles and who will listen to the same old stories without getting bored.

What's the use of good health if you are too lonesome to enjoy it?

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 5:16. Sun rises tomorrow 7:03.

Very often some people don't say what they think because they are afraid of being murdered, or simply.

A leader is an abomination, but the man who is busy doing foolish things is worse than a leader.

Does advanced civilization mean to commence worrying at an earlier age?

Today is the tomorrow you worried about yesterday and that dreadful thing didn't happen, did it?

HOW MUCH OF A PESSIMIST ARE YOU?

The German philosopher, Schopenhauer, ressed his theory of pessimism on the capacity of human wants to multiply.

He held that misery was the ultimate and inevitable lot of the human race. A man is unhappy at the presence of an ungratified want.

Happiness is possible only when the want is gratified, but the moment the want is gratified, two other clamorous wants take its place, so that the poor man is really more miserable than when he thought he was about to be happy.

Mistakes tell us how to do better the next time.

It's hard to find the Right Man when you must need him.

If you would strengthen your character, promise yourself to abstain for 30 days from something you particularly like...and...keep your promise.

Many laws for punishing the bad, but few for rewarding the good.

Try and be as friendly to your neighbors as you expect them to be to you.

As more and more GI Joes go thru separation centers and become used to civilian life again, there will be more and more incidents of camp life.

One such story is about a stern drill sergeant who was instructing recruits in the mysteries of marching movements and found difficulty in getting a certain one to halt when the command was given.

Finally, after several demonstration and unsuccessful attempts to get the idea across, he strode up to the recruit and asked: "What's your name?"

"Casey, sir," was the reply.

"Well, Casey, did you ever drive a mule?"

"Yes, sir."

"What did you say when you wanted him to stop?"

"When sir."

The sergeant turned away and put the squad into action and after they had advanced 20 paces, he bawled out at the top of his lungs: "Squad, halt! Whoa, Casey!"

Success comes from doing things better today than you did them yesterday.

Hez Heck says "Th' powder rag is used a hell lot more than th' dish-rag."

To the ladies: Men are a great deal like automobiles—if you don't take good care of them, they grow old fast.

A woman should introduce herself as "Mrs. Jones" so that she will be referred to as "Mrs." and not "Miss."

A man should introduce himself as "John Jones" unless he has a title when he would say: Dr. or Mayor Jones.

A woman should introduce herself on the telephone to neighbors and acquaintances as "Mrs. Jones," even though the one to whom she is speaking calls her "Miss" or "Mrs."

To a tradesman, or a domestic, she should refer to herself as Mrs. Jones. She should also designate herself so when calling her husband's place of business.

Even an elderly man should be introduced to a young girl, unless he is a distinguished dignitary of the church, the President of the United States or a monarch.

The most accepted form of acknowledgment of an introduction is "How do you do?"

Parting remark: "Good-by, I am very glad to have met you," or "I hope I shall see you again soon." The other person usually answers: "Thank you, or "Thank you, I hope so, too."

Tomorrow—Engagements.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Many of you were probably disgusted when you read the stories about those extravagant New Year's Eve night clubs and swanky hotels where more than 100,000 persons thought nothing of spending from $50 to $500 each the privilege of getting drunk, blowing a tin horn and wearing a cunee's cap.

Yet, undoubtedly read the same stories about a few places in your own neighborhood and you were wondering whether everything isn't going to the dogs.

Well, you may as well take it easy and stop worrying.

I had read those stories and started to wonder. So I took a walk and a little ride on New Year's Eve.

Yes, the night clubs and the hotels were jammed to the doors and there was hell-raising and merry-making, and I never saw so many fools in so small a territory.

And there you have it—in so small a territory.

There are more than seven million persons in New York. All the hot spots in New York don't hold much more than one per cent of that number. And more than half of the merry-makers (and suckers) were from out of town.

For every one of these there were a hundred or more who spent New Year's eve in churches and at home.

For every one who got drunk and made whoopee there were more than a hundred who stayed sober and prayed and gave their money to the church or to the poor.

I have told you before—and I tell it again—when you read it in your paper it's NEWS.

You saw those big stories about New Year's Eve celebrations, didn't you? A few indulged in them.

The other day a New York story advertised a milk coat for a dog at $264. The next day every New York newspaper printed editorials about the ad and whoever bought that coat—if anyone did—never let a out a peep about it and whoever did buy it will never take that milk-coated dog out in public.

And the stock promptly announced that it ran the advertisement only as a gag and that there were no other canine milk coats for sale.

So don't get too worried when ever you read about a crazy happening or doing in your newspaper.

And even so—New Year's Eve comes only once in a year.

If some perfectly respectable banker or grocer or lawyer wants to make a fool of himself one night a year—let's overlook it and let him have his fling. After all it's his hangover on New Year's Day, not yours.

I was told by one who knows that night club owners are among the most liberal contributors to charity drives and welfare organizations.

So maybe Emerson was right in what he wrote about the law of compensation. (Copyright, 1946, King Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

The World and the Mud Puddles

MR. BOWLES AGAIN

If you glance even casually at the current newspapers and magazines you have noticed the reappearance of large-scale automobile advertising by the various automotive companies. Each of the manufacturers is making vigorous appeals in behalf of its product and promising up-to-the-minute improvements and refinements. Already it is evident that competition will be even more intense than before the war.

This array of advertisements means that the various components of the automotive industry are engaged in strong rivalry, with one objective in mind—to give buyers the best product for the least money. There is one thing missing from the motor ads however, that is the important matter of price. The manufacturers have been marking time on this subject while the OPA make up its mind about "ceilings." The OPA assumes that—based on what nobody seems to know—the ceiling limit is placed by edict on the cost of cars to the consumer, the manufacturers and dealers will shake down the public by charging excessive prices.

Such an assumption as this might have some basis if the automotive industry had been guilty of monopoly in the past, or if there were any indications of monopoly in the future. It ignores the basic factor in the industry—the factor which has inspired manufacturers through research, invention, efficiency, intensive salesmanship and advertising, to give the people of the United States the finest transportation at the lowest cost ever known to the world. That factor will continue to govern in the future as in the past. The car builder who would be so foolish as to try to extort undue profit from his product would soon find himself out of the picture.

Any combination of manufacturers to impose unfair prices would quickly find itself not only subject to penalties under the anti-trust laws, it would quickly find independent competition springing up to take away its business.

The whole idea of OPA price controls over the automotive industry, its attempt to compel dealer absorption of cost increases, its proposal to fix arbitrary prices without definite knowledge as to wage scales in the industry—all this is utterly at variance with the spirit of free enterprise which has built the industry. It is one more manifestation of the greed for bureaucratic authority which aims in the direction of the socialization of America.

If Mr. Bowles and his power-hungry clique will give competition a chance, it will not only take good care of the automobile purchasing public, but will take us a long step toward real full employment.

Schwellenbach Shunted Into The Background
Government's Housing Program May Not Work
Faint Hope Is Seen For Real Peace In China

By HELEN ESSARY
(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Capital observers are wondering if Secretary of Labor Lewis Schwellenbach is going to be shunted into the background on government labor matters, as was his predecessor, Frances Perkins.

Like Roosevelt, President Truman appears more and more to be acting as his own labor secretary, with the advice of John R. Steelman, former director of the conciliation service. Many important labor decisions stem directly from the White House.

Labor Department officials insist there is no cooling off between Schwellenbach and Mr. Truman. But some of them wonder just how close their boss is to the government's labor policy decisions.

New Housing Program

The government's new housing program is just so much talk thus far. Sideline doubters still wonder whether the plan will work.

The government intends to give veterans top preference in sales or rentals of new homes costing $10,000 or less, and channel 50 per cent of scarce building materials into the construction of these dwellings.

It is generally believed that only 400,000 new homes will be built in 1946. Most builders who are inclined to build homes to top ceiling levels. Something drastic must be done to channel enough materials into the housing program. As yet no such action appears to be in sight.

America's major commercial airlines are jockeying for a big race to see who will be the first to carry the greatest number of passengers in the shortest time between major cities.

Pennsylvania Central, American, United, Eastern Airlines and others are speeding reconversion of fast, four-engine sky-liners formerly used as military transports to take care of increased passenger loads.

PCA, for example, is putting the big planes on during January in an effort to bring Washington and Chicago on a three-hour and 24-minute schedule, nearly an hour less than the former runs.

Pre-Looks Like One

Emilio Garcia Godoy, Dominican ambassador to the United States, looks like a poet—and is one, although official Washington is unaware of the fact.

Ironically enough Godoy wrote his last poem—a book of 200 sonnets—while serving a prison term for political activities against American intervention in the Dominican Republic.

He was jailed by orders of an American colonel, now a general, who was in command of American Marines. Godoy promptly lunched with his former enemy, the Marine officer, and presented him with a book of his poems.

The general leafed through the book and then turned red. One of the sonnets was affectionately addressed to Godoy's former persecutor, but current friend.

One of the current rumors about Navy Secretary James Forrestal's expected resignation is this: That Forrestal wants to stay on to fight President Truman's proposal for merger of the armed forces.

An outspoken opponent of unification, Forrestal believes such action would subordinate the Navy.

State Department experts are anxiously awaiting the development of George C. Marshall's mission to Moscow.

APPRECIATION

We are appreciative of the fine spirit of understanding shown by the public of Pennsylvania who may have been inconvenienced in the use of our service during the past day or two.

More than 95% of our Bell Telephone workers stuck to their posts. Telephone service within the state has been practically normal. Calls to points outside of the state have been subject to some delay, depending on the varying conditions.

That so large a part of our people have recognized the importance of telephone service to you in the conduct of your business and personal affairs, and its sheer necessity in time of emergency when a telephone call may be a matter of life or death, is very gratifying to us.

The greatest satisfaction which our workers can experience is that of having lived up to the finest traditions of the telephone service, and we here publicly express our appreciation to them.

Nation To Spend Money To Foster Foreign Democracy

U. S. To Give $25,000,000 To Greece In An Effort To Rebuild Country

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—(INS)—The state department made clear today that it will portion out American dollars to help world nations solve their problems by democratic means. This policy was reiterated in the announcement of a 25 million dollar loan to Greece, to rehabilitate one of the most war-ravaged countries of Europe.

United States determination to implement its foreign policy with dollar power had previously been indicated in connection with China. There the state department had been irked, during the war days, by the fact that the Chungking nationalist government had used American loans as an indication that the United States backed it against the so-called communists of north China.

When Gen. George C. Marshall went to China to achieve a truce between Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, President Truman warned that American credit in the future would be based on the ability of the Chinese government to achieve some form of unity.

Truce In China
At the moment, a truce has apparently been concluded between the nationalist and communist forces and observers attribute the fact largely to Mr. Truman's loan threat. In the case of Greece, the department said that by means of the loan, Greece should be able to take steps to re-establish herself economically.

But, it asserted, if the Greek government does not take "energetic steps" to improve the country's internal economic situation, the loan will prove of little value. The statement continued:

"The government of the United States is aware that Greece's burden is a heavy one, but it is convinced that the assistance being extended to Greece can accomplish little toward economic recovery unless the Greek government itself undertakes rigorous measures to control inflation and stabilize the currency, to reduce government expenditures and to augment revenue, to increase the efficiency of the civil service administration and to revive industry and trade."

American Soldier Under Sentence For Stabbing Japs

TOKYO, Jan. 14.—(INS)—The American soldier who is now under a death sentence for slaying two Japanese was identified today as Pfc. Joseph E. Hieswa, 20, of Lodi, N. J.

Army authorities made the identification but failed to say whether or not the court-martial death sentence has been passed on by reviewing agents.

"Hieswa's parents live at 63 Lester Street, Wellington, N. J."

Hieswa was convicted of the unprompted fatal stabbing of two Japanese in a park in the town of Nara on the eve of his return to the United States.

The death sentence was the first such penalty imposed on an American soldier of the occupation army for a crime against Japanese.

Testimony given at the court-martial disclosed that the defendant had re-enlisted and was awaiting transportation to the United States for a leave.

Campus Magazine Has Article By New Castle Girl

NEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 14.—Winter issue of Scrawl, campus literary magazine at Westminster college, will be put on sale Tuesday. Editor of the new issue is Margaret McLane, senior English-Journalism major from Pittsburgh.

Men Enrolling For New Regular Army

Recruiting Station Here Is Now Under New Recruiters From Pittsburgh Station

Lawrence county men between the ages of 17 and 34 are now being enrolled at the U. S. Army recruiting station, Post Office building, for the new regular Army. Young men who have not yet reached their 18th birthday must have the written consent of parents or legal guardian to enlist.

The station here is now under the command of First Lieut. W. W. Wade, a veteran of the European theater, who participated in the North African, Sicily and Italian campaigns. He is assisted by M-Sgt. Charles P. Walsh, who spent four years in Panama, and S-Sgt. James D. Meredith, a veteran of the Pacific theater, who participated in the battles of Midway, Guadalcanal and Northern Solomons campaigns.

Many opportunities are offered to men who join the new regular Army. All educational benefits of the G. I. Bill of Rights are offered to those who enlist at this time, and any man who re-enlists within 20 days after discharge may retain his old grade held at the time of discharge. Men belonging to the Enlisted Reserve Corps may enlist in grade which he holds in the Reserve. These opportunities will not be offered after the first of February.

Anyone interested in the opportunities of travel, education or a career in the regular Army may obtain further detailed information at the New Castle recruiting office, room 202, Post Office building.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

dependence should come gradually and with evidence in the child of ability to take responsibility; that the almost complete independence so prevalent among youth at twelve or thirteen would be far more desirable at seventeen or eighteen. It seems to me we parents should aim to prepare the child, gradually, to manage his own behavior pretty fully by the time he is eighteen, in all those areas in which he does not infringe on the rights of others in the family.

Esther Lloyd-Jones and Ruth Pedder, in that excellent book, "Coming of Age" (McGraw-Hill, N. Y., 1941), write:

"In the family circle an individual should, from his infancy, have found opportunities for freedom of choice and for carrying responsibility without too much pressure, dominance, oversolicitude, or over protection. The freedom should have included responsibility for making his own choices and also responsibility for what happens to others, as well as to himself, because of those choices."

Parents' Attempt
Further, these authors point out that parents attempt to choose for their young people, even in their early twenties, their friends, their schools, their churches, and sometimes even their vocations and their life partners. They ask of young people a blind adherence to ideals and standards that they dictate.

Because the parents are sincere in this belief, they may even hurt or shame a young person into obedience. Some parents exercise control over young people by appealing to their sympathy and love. There are a few cases where a parent requests a young person to do or to be something that the parent wishes, merely because refusal to conform to the parent's demands will hurt the parent's feelings, cause a sick headache or a heart attack.

Such pressure on children, of any age indeed, reveals a childishness in the parents. Not having grown up themselves, they make it hard for the youth even in his twenties to be nearly grown up.

A Local Lady Spit Up Acid Liquids For Hours After Eating

For hours after every meal, a New Castle lady used to spit up a strong, acidulous liquid mixed with pieces of half-digested food. She says it was awful. At times she would nearly strangle. She had stomach bloating, daily headaches and constant irregular bowel action. Today, this lady eats her meals and enjoys them. And she says the change is due to taking ERB-HELP. No gas, bloating or spitting up after eating. She is also free of headaches now, and bowels are regular, thanks to this Remarkable New Compound. ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Pearl Harbor Probers Denounce CIO Accusations

Deny Charge That Inquiry Is Stalling And Enemies Of Roosevelt Being Appeased

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—(INS)—A CIO charge that the Pearl Harbor inquiry is stalling action on social legislation brought an angry suggestion today from committee members that the labor organization "mind its own business."

Democratic members of the 10-man committee especially denounced the CIO allegation that they were "appeasing" enemies of the late President Roosevelt and delaying pending legislation by continuing the investigation.

The committee's public hearings resume tomorrow with Admiral Husband E. Kimmel, 1941 Pacific fleet commander, defending himself for the first time in an open session on the 1942 Roberts commission charge that he was derelict in his duty.

"No Business of CIO"
Sen. Lucas (D. Ill.) denied the CIO accusation and bluntly asserted: "I don't think it's any business of the congress of industrial organizations to try to tell an investigating committee of this kind what they should or should not do. We're well able to take care of that ourselves."

Sen. Brewster (R. Maine) joined in refuting the CIO claim. Both said it would be unfortunate to end the hearings just as Kimmel and Gen. Walter C. Short, 1941 army commander, were about to have their "day in court."

Sen. George (D. Ga.), one of the three Democrats on the committee singled out by the CIO, said the blast was "wholly unfounded." He commented:

"It's so utterly lacking in fact, I don't know what they could mean." The letter rapping the committee was directed to Senate Majority Leader Barkley, chairman of the House-Senate investigating group, by Nathan Cowan, CIO legislative director. Barkley was not available for comment.

Cowan called the inquiry a "mockery" and an "attempted smear on the memory of a great President."

Carnegie Mills Invent New Steel

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 14.—(INS)—A new type of multiple-purpose stainless steel has been developed, it was announced by the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation in Pittsburgh.

Named "Stainless W," the new addition to the stainless family is reported to combine strength, hardness and corrosion resistance. As a result of these properties, it is expected to find wide application in wrought and cast forms in the machinery field. It will also be available in strip, sheet, wire and tube form.

Man discovered the first alloy, copper, before the time of the earliest written records, but new alloys are still being discovered.

Labor Legislation Faces Congress, But Action Is Delayed

Plans For Early Action On Measures Receives Setback As Congress Resumes

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—(INS)—Members of Congress resumed their lawmaking duties today with strike turmoil ringing in their ears, but actual labor legislation appeared many weeks away.

Quick action could come only if Congress should halt the usual committee procedure and attach labor legislation as a rider to some early measure.

But chances of legislation in a month or so through the usual channels got a setback when the key labor and management witnesses from the strike-torn auto and steel industries said they could not appear immediately before the Senate Labor committee.

Want Delay

An informed source said neither labor nor management wants to come under a questioning battery of senators while their hard-fought negotiations are under way.

Previously scheduled to discuss President Truman's fact-finding bill today were President C. E. Wilson of General Motors and President R. J. Thomas of United Auto Workers.

They could not appear. Also postponed was the appearance tomorrow of Vice President John H. Stephens of United States Steel and Philip Murray of the CIO Steel Workers Union.

Senator Murray (D. Mont.), chairman, had wanted the spotlight figures in the two major labor battles to open the series of hearings he estimates will last a month.

Inca 'Corn Ear' Now On Exhibit At Iowa State

AMES, Iowa.—(INS)—A perfectly fashioned piece of Peruvian pottery which scientists for 15 years considered one of the most important ears of corn in the world is on exhibit at Iowa State college.

The synthetic ear was brought to Iowa State from the Peabody Museum of Natural History at Yale university.

Prof. J. C. Cunningham said that before the ear was unearthed in Inca ruins in 1919, research historians had reached general agreement on the origin of corn. Then carefully accumulated data and evidence indicated that corn probably had originated within the last 1,500 years.

Hardly had this conclusion been substantiated, however, when the Peruvian ear was discovered. Rushed to the United States, the ear was examined and proclaimed a true fossil with petrification offering undeniable proof that good corn existed a hundred thousand years ago.

One authority at the U. S. National Museum examined the ear and named it Zea Antiqua, ancient corn.

No one questioned the verdict until 1934 when Dr. Roland W. Brown of the U. S. Geological Survey, long suspecting the ear was not valid, dared to put the precious antique under the saw.

His findings revealed the ear to be hollow, a cleverly hand-made clay copy of an ear of Peruvian maize which probably had been a toy used by children in the ancient highlands of Peru.

THE GRAPEVINE bears a new crop of tips and rumors every day. Some folks may occasionally profit by them. But remember this: THE GRAPEVINE will let you down just as surely as night follows day!

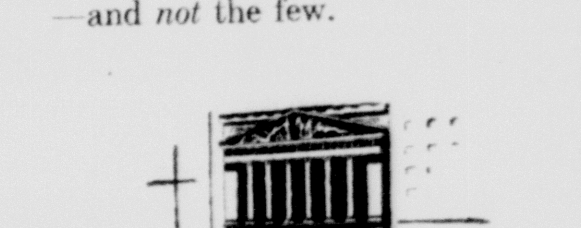

This Exchange's disapproval of "grapevine information" has been made clear in these widely published words: "The well-established principle of disclosure of facts, as the basis upon which security values should be judged, is the essence of Exchange policy. Tips, rumors and impulses have no place in the serious business of advising investors."

Facts are available. Before any company lists its securities in this investors' marketplace, that company agrees to report, regularly, basic facts concerning its operations and financial condition. Wise, experienced investors know this. Before they act they seek out the facts. Thus, they are able to exercise informed judgment, based upon facts. Never before has there been available so much factual information to guide responsible buyers and sellers of securities.

Over the past century and a half, ownership of American business enterprise has spread out to millions of homes so that today it is estimated these owners are to be found in one out of every four families. The risks and rewards involved in America's productive progress are shared by the many—and not the few.

This widespread ownership has been possible because investors, large and small, have found in the facilities of this Exchange an open, ready market in which they know they can sell what they have bought—promptly, at prices based upon the supply and demand in the market at the time transactions are completed.

Such a market—free, open and honestly conducted—is a national asset. But, just as the highway builder cannot guarantee the safety of all who ride the roads he builds—this Exchange cannot safeguard you against risk. You, the investing public, must be the "careful driver" on this free open highway to broader national ownership of American business enterprise.

Reveal Dr. Conti, Nazi Official, Ended Own Life

NUERNBERG, Jan. 14.—(INS)—The three-months-old suicide of Nazi Health Commissioner Dr. Leonardi Conti was confirmed by security officials today on the eve of his scheduled appearance as a war crimes trial witness.

As late as last night, prison officials protested to correspondents that they were unaware of the author of Nazi sterilization and mercy death decrees had hanged himself with his shirt-sleeve in his Nuernberg cell.

With Conti scheduled to testify tomorrow, security officials hinted at his death to members of the U. S. Prosecution staff.

The body was buried in a nearby cemetery, despite an official report he had been transferred to an "unidentified hospital."

A bulldog got its name from the fact that it was used in England to fight bulls, but a pit bull was so named because it fought other dogs in pits.

Republicans Appear To Have Large Number Of Possible State Candidates

OTHER NEWS OF STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, Jan. 14.—(INS)—The Republicans thus far appear to have drummed up the most enthusiasm for the 1946 campaign. Approximately a dozen men, including six cabinet officers, have been mentioned as possible candidates for the GOP gubernatorial nomination. On the other hand, the only man who has been mentioned repeatedly on the Democratic side has been Gen. Carl Spaatz of Boytown. Spaatz, an army air forces career man, was expected to be named chief of the air service after the resignation of Gen. H. H. Arnold of Gladwynne. Some leaders believe Spaatz will reject the nomination. Steady contenders for the GOP gubernatorial nomination were Lt. Gen. John C. Bell, former Lt. Col. Jay Cooke of Philadelphia and Secretary of Highways John U. Shroyer.

The Democratic state committee, however, has outdistanced its Republican counterpart in the political battle of words. The Democrats have resumed the issuance of weekly statements to newspapers after a brief suspension following the November 6 election. House Minority Leader Hiram G. Andrews, Johnstown newspaperman, has been the guiding hand behind the statements which have attacked the administration on subjects ranging from housing to veterans' benefits.

"The month of January, 1946, opens the door to a world more dangerous than any ever faced before and yet one teeming with possibilities that seemed 10 years ago to be wildest dreams of romantic fiction," the state planning board has reported. "Politically, the modern world faces a long period of painful readjustments to the consequences of the greatest war in history. Scientifically, we stand on the threshold of a new age made possible by the release of atomic energy."

The state health department has reported that heart diseases head the 10 principal causes of death. Other principal causes included cancer, cerebral hemorrhage, nephritis, pneumonia, congenital malformations, diabetes, tuberculosis and suicides.

A booklet has been issued by the department of military affairs outlining plans for the reorganization of Pennsylvania's postwar National guard which will muster more than 40,000 troops under tentative plans. The pamphlet explains the guard's mission as follows: "To provide a reserve component of the army of the United States, capable of immediate expansion to war strength, able to furnish units fit for service anywhere in the world, trained and equipped to defend critical areas of the U. S. against land, seaborne or airborne invasion; to assist in controlling the remainder of the reserve forces, and to participate by units in all types of operations, including the offensive, either in the United States or overseas."

SMALL FRUITS OFFER GARDEN POSSIBILITIES

Home fruit gardens offer possibilities for production of fruit in a limited way. To be successful, special attention should be given to the selection of species of fruits, and those varieties which lend themselves to local conditions and available equipment. Grapes, strawberries, raspberries, currants, and gooseberries usually prove more satisfactory than any attempt to produce tree fruits on a small scale.

Space in the average small garden can be used to advantage with small fruits, while planting of tree fruits often curtails the production of vegetables or small fruits, through excessive crowding. Small fruits can be used as hedge or border material fitting into the ornamental scheme and also supplying some fruit at the same time. Another disadvantage of tree fruits is the necessity of using large equipment to control insects and disease.

Best varieties of small fruits are as follows:

Grapes—Fredonia or Portland, and in later varieties, Concord or Niagara.

Strawberries—Premier and Catskill.

Red raspberries—Latham or Taylor.

Black raspberries—Cumberland, Morrison or New Logan. (Plant only red or black raspberries. Never both.)

Gooseberries—Poorman or Downing.

Currants—Red Lake or Perfection.

STRIKE AVERTED

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 14.—(INS)—The threatened strike of shop, custodial and cafeteria employees of Pittsburgh public schools was averted today when members accepted a 15 per cent wage increase. The increase on individual hourly rates also involves a reduction in hours for employees working more than 40 hours.

AFL skilled workers last week picketed the board of education warehouses in protest against the dismissal of 14 painters, carpenters and electricians. CIO workers refused to cross the picket lines.

State Prepares To Meet Winter Damage To Roads

HARRISBURG, Jan. 14.—Plans for initiating a program to cope with any road damages which may occur as a result of the current winter were discussed here last week at a meeting held by Secretary of Highways John U. Shroyer with the Department's 11 district engineers and 66 superintendents.

"The inception of the present winter, as far as highways are concerned, was under the most disadvantageous conditions because several weeks before we had freezing temperatures, we had incessant rain which caused the road beds and the sub-soil to be thoroughly saturated with water. This is now a solid mass of frozen ground and there is much danger of road 'buckling' and road 'heaving,' should we have a sudden thaw and a sudden freeze," Shroyer explained.

"The employees of the Highway Department are ever cognizant of the threat to safe driving and the dangers created by these conditions, and are constantly on the alert with the thought of being prepared for any eventuality."

"I discussed with the engineers and superintendents the initiating of an early spring program in order to be prepared for early spring action, because I sincerely believe this year will be one of the busiest the Highway Department has experienced for many a year."

Steelworkers In Philadelphia Area Return To Work

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 14.—(INS)—Some 50,000 steelworkers in the Philadelphia area returned to work today in compliance with the request of CIO President Philip Murray for a week's postponement of a general steel strike.

Richard G. Davidson, acting director of District 1, United Steelworkers, declared that there would be no unauthorized walkout in the area during the new negotiation period.

"The partial victory of our union and success during the coming week depends upon our complete unity and discipline during the next few days," he said.

Davidson warned, however, that unless an acceptable settlement is reached by next Sunday midnight the strike will go on as originally scheduled.

Burglars Stage Several Attempts

Attempts were made to burglarize several places here during the week-end, according to reports made to city police.

Entry into Rieck-McJunkin plant, South Beaver street, was made thru a door but nothing was found to have been stolen, Saturday night.

Nailed down window prevented burglars from getting into the Forest Service station, South Beaver street, Saturday night.

Miller Drug store, Beaver and West Washington streets, was also entered through a door from which glass was broken Saturday night but nothing was found missing, it was reported.

A screen was either removed or blown from a rear window of the Love & Meagun store, North Mill street. No entry was made, according to police.

Bob Gallagher Out Of Service

Staff Sgt. Bob Gallagher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Gallagher of Taylor street, has been discharged from Camp Atterbury, Ind., after three years and four months army service, two years of which was spent overseas with the 38th field hospital unit in Hawaii, Thian, Japan, Iwo Jima and Okinawa. While in the Pacific area, S-Sgt. Gallagher met his three brothers, Vincent and William in Hawaii and Captain John Gallagher at Tinian. Mr. Gallagher expects to resume his former position with the Burton Explosives. He and his wife, the former Ann Laurel, will reside on County Line street after remodeling work is completed on their home.

OFFICE OF THE CHIEF OF STAFF

"The purpose of the Army's world-wide enlistment campaign is twofold: to release men of long and arduous war service who want to return to civilian life—and to build a strong Regular Army of volunteers."

"By our victory we have won the respect of the world. We can lose that respect, and with it our influence toward a just and peaceful world order, if we reduce our military forces to the point where they become weak or ineffective."

"The Congress has enacted and the President has approved legislation which makes enlistment in the Regular Army more attractive than ever before in our history. It gives the soldier a position in the new peacetime Army that merits the respect of all our citizens."

"Every American should know the valuable provisions in this new Armed Forces Voluntary Recruitment Act. They help place your Regular Army on the highest plane of any army on earth—with advanced study, training and travel at good pay in a career of high duty and responsibility."

"There is a solid obligation on all of us to safeguard the victory we have won at such enormous cost. The rapid rebuilding of our Regular Army is a vital necessity if we are to meet that obligation."

WHY BUTTER IS STILL SCARCE

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 14.—(INS)—Puzzled by the scarcity of butter? Here, according to the National Dairy Council, is why it is so hard to find.

Removal by the government of restrictions on fluid milk sales, the council said, sent consumption of that product, already at an all-time high, to still greater levels.

At the same time, removal of restrictions on the sales of fluid cream and ice cream sent consumption of these products soaring. This resulted in still further inroads upon the amount of milk and cream available for butter manufacture.

Demands for milk, ice cream and fluid cream which return a higher price to the farmer are so high as to leave less milk for making butter. But there is encouragement, the council pointed out. Milk production will increase gradually until next June, when production is expected to be double what it is at present.

Grates Cause Of Two Fires Sunday

City firemen were called out twice Sunday night, when overheated grates set fire to the woodwork surrounding them. Both fires were discovered immediately, and the damage as a result was confined to a minimum loss.

The first fire occurred around 8 o'clock in the home of L. O. Donnelly, of 213 East Leasure avenue, the fire in this case being confined to the area underneath the grate.

The second blaze occurred about 11:45 p. m. in the home of Edward L. McKissick, of 2009 Delaware avenue. This fire was between the chimney and outside wall, and it was necessary to tear off some of the weatherboarding to extinguish the blaze.

UAW-CIO Leaders Await Reaction On Wage Issue

Accepts GM Fact-Finding Board Recommendations If GM Accepts By January 21

DETROIT, Jan. 14.—(INS)—General Motors work in about 175 tool and die shops is threatened today while UAW-CIO leaders await President Truman's reaction to the union's wage ultimatum.

Delegates to the UAW's national GM conference yesterday demanded that the strike strategy committee broaden its economic blockade by halting GM tool and die work.

Vice President Walter P. Reuther emphasized that tool and die workers would not strike but merely refuse to touch GM work. He estimated that about 4,000 workers would be affected.

The New York stoppage would completely halt all GM reconversion work as well as manufacture of 1947 models.

Meanwhile, the union is awaiting an answer to its statement that it will withdraw its acceptance of the fact-finding board's recommendations unless GM accepts the suggestions by Jan. 21.

More than 200 delegates approved acceptance of the government's wage proposal at the meeting yesterday.

After three hours of debate the delegates sent a telegram to President Truman stating the union "is willing to postpone achievement of our full equity in the situation in the public interest."

The resolution continued that if the corporation "does not accept the board's recommendations for a 10% cents an hour increase by Jan. 21" the union will withdraw its offer and insist on equitable demands.

Lt. Robert McGrew Listed As Killed

Plane Of Missing Flier Located In India-China Sector; Crashed In December 1944

Parents of First Lt. Robert L. McGrew have received word that their son met his death in a plane crash on December 10, 1944, in the India-China sector, where he had been "flying the hump" from India with supplies for the fighting men in China.

Entering service in February, 1942, while still a student at Indiana State Teachers college, Lt. McGrew was sent to the India-China sector in May, 1944, with the 10th combat cargo group, whose task it was to fly supplies over the most difficult terrain in the world, the Himalayas.

The lieutenant's plane, a C-47, which was reported missing since December, 1944, has just recently been found and identified as his with the date of the local pilot's death being placed as December 10, 1944.

Carrying into the army the same sterling qualities which he had shown throughout his life, Lt. McGrew was promoted within a very brief period to the rank of first lieutenant. For his overseas service he received the distinguished flying cross and the air medal with three oak leaf clusters.

A graduate of Union high school in 1939, he returned to Indiana State Teachers college during a brief furlough and received his degree when his class graduated in 1943. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. McGrew of McClelland avenue, a sister, Jane Ellen, and two brothers, Donald C. who served as a first lieutenant with the fifth bomber group in the Pacific, and Frank W. who served as a first lieutenant piloting a B-29. He was a member of the Second U. P. church.

Strikes Increase In State In 1945

Number Of Pennsylvanians Participating Doubled During Past Year Record Shows

HARRISBURG, Jan. 14.—(INS)—The department of labor and industry reported today that the number of Pennsylvanians participating in strikes doubled during 1945.

A department official said the bureau of mediation had reported that 346,277 persons engaged in 482 strikes in the state last year while 377 strikes forced 168,310 Pennsylvania workers into idleness during 1944.

The U. S. bureau of labor statistics said there were about 4600 work stoppages involving approximately 3,250,000 workers and resulting in about 35,000,000 man-hours of idleness throughout the nation in 1945.

Many strikes in Pennsylvania were reported during November and December. He pointed out that final statistics on strikes in Pennsylvania compiled by the U. S. labor department may be higher than the state total because the federal government recorded small disputes with few workers involved which were settled in a day or so.

The official emphasized that the state and U. S. government worked in close cooperation in the program to settle labor disputes. "As soon as the department gets word of a dispute we send a mediator to offer the services of the state," he said. "The federal government does the same as soon as they hear of a strike. The state and federal governments have been working in close cooperation for more than 20 years."

The state has 11 mediators located throughout the state, ready to swing into action the moment a dispute arises.

Four men were located in Philadelphia, two each in Allegheny and Washington counties and one each at Wilkes-Barre, Danville and Erie.

Famous Swimmer In Exhibition At Y Swimming Pool

Norris 'Corky' Kellam, World-Renowned Comedian, To Perform In Show

"CORKY" KELLAM

Norris "Corky" Kellam, world-famous swimmer and comedian, will perform in his exhibition at the "Y" swimming pool giving two performances, at 4:30 and 8 p. m., Thursday, January 17.

"Corky" is a veteran of the San Francisco and New York World Pairs and has given his performances before over 5,000,000 people. His prowess in the water and his original comedy routines are sure to delight all who see him.

Sometimes called the "human sea elephant" and the "cork" because of his massive, 333-pound frame, Kellam will stage his stunts above and under the water and will be assisted in his acts by "Corky" Kellam, Jr. and a young lady who will feed him while he is under the water.

Many Stunts

Kellam's stunts include the famous seven-glass juggle, eating and smoking under water, water-boxing and a sensational leap into the pool while he is securely tied to a chair. In the boxing matches the mammoth swimmer will take on any four swimmers in a four-round, no time limit battle in which there is but 15 seconds rest between rounds. A knockout is a knockdown under water.

This is the first time this aquatic marvel has visited this section of the country and he comes here direct from the Atlantic City Steel Pier.

Special equipment is being installed in the "Y" pool and a crowd of both children and grown-ups is expected to turn out to see "Corky" perform.

March Of Dimes Campaign Opens

Lawrence County Drive For Funds To Battle Infantile Paralysis Now Under Way

Record contributions of America's families to the 1945 March of Dimes brought the nation through last year's widespread epidemics of infantile paralysis and lengthened the strides of science in a continuing struggle for total victory over the great crippler.

More than 13,000 cases of polio were reported in the United States in 1945, fourth highest year on record in this country. Epidemics raged in sections of Tennessee, Utah, Illinois, New York and Montana.

The National Federation for Infantile Paralysis, with its local chapters throughout the country, built a united front with local and state health authorities against polio wherever the disease struck.

Poliomyelitis is one of the most expensive diseases known to medicine. Many victims of past epidemics must receive continuing care, sometimes for several years. Each year's outbreaks add new names to the steadily growing list. Hospitalization for a single patient costs more than $2,500 per year. Very few family budgets can stand such a strain.

The foundation, in its eight year history, has appropriated $7,673,113 for scientific work. For research toward the goal of a preventive and a cure for infantile paralysis, for the training of physicians, nurses, physical therapists, medical social workers and others in modern methods of treating and helping polio victims; for a broad program of education to give the facts about polio to the people of America.

Of all contributions in any county to the annual March of Dimes conducted by the foundation, half remitted by the local chapter for special equipment, hospitalization, transportation, treatment and care of polio patients. The other half goes to the national organization for research, education, and emergency aid in epidemics.

Standing ready to give battle on very sector of the polio front, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is a vital weapon of the working people—a weapon against the common enemy, poliomyelitis.

The local chapter expended over $4,000 in 1945. What it will cost in 1946 no one can foretell, so give what you can.

Mail contributions to P. O. Box 789, New Castle.

Weather Man Skeptical About Electronic Brain

Proposal Is Made That Electronic Brain Can Aid Weather Forecasting

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—(INS)—The local weather man today is nursing bruised feelings and pains in the pride.

Furthermore, he plainly doesn't think he needs a brain to help him out with his weather forecasts—even an electronic brain that can solve 100,000 differential equations in one minute.

The brain is said to be fearful and wonderful, complex beyond comprehension—and perfectly capable of forecasting weather with a high degree of accuracy.

Sneer and Snort
 When the local weather man was reached for comment he gave it in the framework of a sneer and snort. He said:

"I haven't heard anything about this brain yet . . . if it can forecast weather it must be pretty good." It wasn't so much what he said as the way he said it. The snort came at the beginning of the sentence and the sneer in the middle. Although the brain has not yet

Excess Ships Will Be Returned To Former Owners

Fifty Cargo And Transport Ships Are To Be Turned Back To Foreign Governments

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—(INS)—The War department and the War Shipping administration are returning more than 50 cargo and transport ships to foreign governments.

The vessels have been declared "excess." More are scheduled for return to America's commercial shipping lines.

This disclosure was made today as the Maritime commission said that the governments policy is to turn back the nation's merchant fleet to private ownership and operation "at the earliest practicable moment."

Meantime, an army spokesman reiterated that shipping is no longer a factor in bringing war veterans home. Even if the "excess" vessels were retained in service they would not be used to transport servicemen home because ship space is left over without them.

This additional space will be used to bring the United States women who married American soldiers overseas.

The army spokesman said in response to inquiries that a check is

Allowance For Veterans Under Educational Privileges Increased By Law Modification

LIMITATION ON AGE ELIMINATED

In addition to modification of the G. I. Bill of Rights providing for broadening of loan privileges, the educational provisions of the law have also been broadened. Worrell M. Jones, contact representative of the veterans administration here has been advised.

Under Public Law 346, the time during which a man may apply for educational rights has been extended to four years from the official end of the war, or from the time of his discharge, whichever ever is the latest date. Previously it was two years.

Under the original law, a veteran over 25 years of age at the time of his entry into service could not apply, except for certain exceptions. There is no age limitation now.

The subsistence allowance has been increased from $50 to $65 for men without dependents, and from $75 to $90 for men with dependents. Tuition provisions have also been liberalized. Formerly it was $500 for an ordinary school year. The new amendment provides that the total amount a veteran is entitled to may be paid for shorter and more expensive courses.

Under Public Law 16, the voca-tionally handicapped veteran or disabled man was limited to four years of training. Now more than four years can be taken if necessary as long as he finishes within nine years of the official end of the war. Under the old law, subsistence provided was only an increase in his pension rates. Now he may draw up to $105 while going to school, if single; or if married, $115, plus $10 for the first child, and $7 for each additional child, and $15 for each dependent parent.

Any veteran wishing further clarification of the laws may apply at the veterans administration offices, Second Floor, L. S. and T. Building.

Gob And Doughboy Picket Pickets

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 14.—(INS)—A Gob and a Doughboy picked the pickets that were picketing in front of the Charleston Telephone Exchange.

That is—until the M. P.'s stepped in and put the rush on them.

After the self appointed pickets were ordered on the sidewalks five civilians, all wearing honorable discharge buttons, took over and continued the counter-march against the union pickets.

The veterans said the pickets had no right to picket for higher wages because there were millions of soldiers still overseas working for much less than union wages.

Air War Heroes Doing Their Bit To Insure Peace

Youthful Veterans Who Won Air War Now Assume Important Roles
On Staffs

By LEE VAN ATTA
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Throughout the globe, the youthful air heroes who made possible victory in World War II are doing their share to guarantee the peace they fought so hard to win.

In line with a policy of giving young men the post-war military reassignment, veterans of sky battle are serving in various roles. They are being used as combat tactics advisors, participants in highly specialized projects, senior planners in the war department, observers in foreign countries and as students in technical training and engineering schools.

Ranking Ace
Col. Charles H. MacDonald (St.
Petersburg, Fla., and Arlington, Va.) America's ranking Pacific ace when the war ended is stationed in Washington as a member of the air forces vital joint planning board. MacDonald, whose score was 27 enemy aircraft destroyed, is regarded as one of America's most skilled twin-engine fighter pilots.

Capt. Don Gentile, the famed European theater ace, is on duty at Wright Field, Ohio, as one of the key members in the experimental flight test section.

Col. Henry G. Thorne (San Francisco, Cal., and San Antonio, Tex.)
who was a member of the late General H. H. George's 5th Bataan air force before his evacuation to Australia in 1942, is chief of operations of the Fifth Air Force in Japan.

Maj. Rex Barber (Culver, Ore.)
who was partner with Lt. Col.
Thomas Lambier in the destruction of Admiral Yamamoto's bomber in 1943 is on duty with the revolutionary jet-propulsion project at March Field, Cal.

Col. George Prentice (Alexandria, Va.) who commanded the fighter squadron in which the late Major Richard Bong scored his first fifteen victories, is chief of fighter training in air force headquarters in Washington.

Cochran's Buddy
Col. John Allison (Gainesville, Fla.) who co-commanded the Burma air command with Col. Philip "Flip" Cochran is in New York organizing an air transport line. The colorful Cochran is in Hollywood reportedly negotiating a film contract.

Col. Richard R. Rowland (Lima, O.) 18-plane Pacific ace is in the headquarters of Maj. Gen. St. Clair Street's Continental Air Forces command as assistant chief of operations. Operations director of the Continental command is Col. Brian
H. "Shanty" O'Neill (New York City) who led a group of death-Mitchell bombers to victory in the decisive battle of the Bismarck Sea.

With few exceptions, the heroes of World War II are continuing to serve their country in time of peace.

State Veterans Receiving Loans

Approximately Nine Million Dollars
Already Loaned To Help
Returning Veterans

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 14.—(INS)
—Uncle Sam has, thus far, dug down into his jeans for more than $9 million to help Pennsylvania veterans pick up the threads of interrupted civilian life.

An International News Service survey of the three regional veterans' administration offices in Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and Wilkes-Barre revealed today:

(1) That World War II veterans are using their GI Bill of Rights to purchase homes in far greater proportion than for any other reason.

(2) That only a comparatively few ex-GIs are borrowing for business ventures.

(3) That even smaller numbers are borrowing in order to purchase farms.

By regional offices, here are the loans thus far guaranteed by the Veterans' Administration in Pennsylvania:

Pittsburgh	$2,792,907.00
Philadelphia	$2,334,005.34
Wilkes-Barre	$1,944,013.64
The total is	$9,270,925.98

Veterans Administration spokesmen in all three regional offices voiced opinions that loans to Pen-sylvania veterans under the GI Bill have exceeded all expectations
thus far.

Farm Machinery Repair Class At East Brook High

Tonight a class in the care and repairing of farm machinery opens in the East Brook High school farm shop and will continue each Monday and Thursday nights from 7:30 to 10:30 p. m.

Farmers in the East Brook community will take their broken implements to the shop and make the necessary repairs. Howard F. Fox, the agricultural teacher, will be in charge of the shop and assist the farmers. Each farmer however will make his own repairs. The course is free except for materials used from the shop.

The school district is providing the building, use of the tools, heat and light for the course free of charge.

The shop is equipped with electric and acetylene welders, metal lathe, bench saw, grinders, wood jointer, drill presses and numerous small hand tools.

Why Thousands of Doctors Have Prescribed

PERTUSSIN FOR BAD COUGHS
(CAUSED BY COLDS)

Pertussin must be good when thousands of doctors have prescribed it for so many years. PERTUSSIN acts at once to relieve such coughing. It actually loosens phlegm and makes it easier to raise. Safe and effective for both old and young. Pleasant tasting, too!

National Move Being Planned

'Little Man' In Business Starts Drive To Gain Voice In American Life

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 14.—(INS)
—The "little man" in business launched a nation-wide drive today to gain a voice in American life.
Alarmed by the inability of the small business man to get started in the post-war industrial world, a group of Philadelphia men opened a campaign to gain recognition for the little fellows.

A. B. Simmons, field secretary of the newly founded American Institute of Smaller Businesses, told

International News Service that eventually the organization would set up national headquarters in Washington, with members in every state in the Union.

He pointed out that farmers, labor and large business were adequately represented in the national and state capitals. So far, Simmons said, there has been no one to speak for small business—"A great, unorganized, incoherent legion that has done more to fill pay envelopes and create prosperity than any other."

Simmons said the institute received its state charter in Philadelphia only last month, but that already the response from businessmen has been "amazing." Membership is open to individuals and to companies with less than 500 employees whose stock is not listed on the exchange.

The field secretary asserted that the institute's main purpose was to help the "little man," professional men and small employers to "get a break in legislation, research and labor relations." The institute, he said, was non-profit, non-political and "devoted to mutual welfare under constitutional government."

Students Take Turns Editing College Paper

NEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 14.—
Senior journalism students at Westminster college are getting a practical knowledge of managing a publication as part of their major work.

A plan for Dr. William J. Thomas, journalism department head, has been adopted whereby five senior students will edit at least one of the issues of the Holcad, college newspaper.

All mechanics of editorship will be handled by the senior in charge but editorials and policy will still be determined by Editor-in-Chief Ruth Stoehr.

Guest editors of the Holcad will be Mary Alsop, Dormont; Margaret McLane, McKeesport; Judy Gordon, Oakmont; Betty Sheffler, Greensburg, and Beverly Frye, Johnstown.

Why we believe that General Electric's wage offer is fair

1. IT MEANS HIGHER AVERAGE "TAKE HOME" PAY IN 1946 THAN IN WARTIME

We have offered the union an increase of 10 cents an hour for all those making less than $1.00 an hour, and 10% increase for those who make more. * With the overtime that will be necessary to meet consumer demand this year, the average employee would have more "take home" pay than he had during the war.

*Those making from $2,000 to $3,000 in salary would receive 10% increases and those receiving between $3,000 and $5,000 annually would receive increases of $300.

2. GENERAL ELECTRIC'S RECORD ASSURES GOOD FUTURE PAY

The G-E wage policy in normal times assured our workers wage rates equal to, or higher than, comparable industries in every community in which we operate. We expect to continue this policy in the future.

3. THE MOST WASTEFUL THING THAT CAN HAPPEN NOW IS A STRIKE

Nothing can be gained by a strike now that could not be gained with men at work. Much can be lost. A million dollars a day in wages alone can be lost. Homes by the hundreds of thousands—and communities across the land—can suffer. That's why we hope that it won't happen.

British Forces Use Heavy Tanks In Java Battle

LONDON, Jan. 14.—(INS)—The London Evening News reported today that British forces in Java are using heavy Sherman tanks, artillery and naval gunfire to stem the mounting Indonesian nationalist offensive.

The paper, in an undated item, said that Nationalists ambushed and killed three more British soldiers near Batavia, it added.

"The trouble in Java is more widespread than it has been in several weeks."

CHESTER—About 45 per cent of an estimated 2000 acres of mosquito-breeding marshland has been reclaimed by Delaware county in cooperation with the U.S. Public Health Service. An official estimated one acre of marshland could spawn 12 million "skeeters" annually.

Worked Six Years On A-Bomb Secret

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—(INS)—The final report of Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler as president of Columbia university disclosed today that scientists at the institution have been working on the atomic bomb since 1939. Dr. Butler, now president emeritus of Columbia, said:

"Our Columbia scientists, under the necessities of war, did fully and thoroughly their part in the conception and production, in advance of our enemies, of a new and frightful instrument of destruction. "Columbia's pride and satisfaction will be still greater if her sons and daughters, under the necessities of peace, can play as large a part in solving the still greater problem of how the world can escape the terror and ruin that misuse of atomic bombs can bring."

Shenango Meets Wampum Quintet For League Lead

Winner Of Tuesday's Battle Will Assume Lead Of Section XX Pack

ELLWOOD CITY VISITS FARRELL

Can an Indian scalp a wildcat? That is a question that is uppermost in the minds of county basketball fans as the fabulous Wampum tribe hits the war-path tomorrow night and invades the lair of Shenango's snarling felines in the spotlight contest of the evening.

A rather-bulging crowd is expected to stream into the Shenango gym to eye this "dish for the gods" and the lead of the league rests with the winner. Followers of the hoops sport are divided in opinion over this juicy clash and there are as many Wampum backers as there are "Cat supporters."

This is one of the pay-off games that was bound to evolve from the Section XX race, and both clubs have clawed their way to the pinnacle of the loop. Butler Hennon's Chiefs have done away with Princeton, Mt. Jackson and Union, while Eddie Nahas' potent crew has taken the measure of the tougher foes, dumping East Brook, Bessemer and New Wilmington, virtually eliminating the latter from the race for this season in a 31-29 extra period victory last Friday night.

Many Stars To Clash

The Shenango floor will feature some classy cagers when the two teams take the opening whistle and begin their battle. The Hennon hoopers boast the best double-barrel salvo in the county in Eddie March and "Jumpin'" Joe Capable, and the Wildcats will counter with their great port-side shot, Charles "Lefty" Tanner, and their steady guard, "Handsome" Jack Badger.

Whatever the outcome it will be a jolt of a battle and fans will do well to look in on this outstanding schoolboy fracas.

Other Circuit Games

With a quick look around the loop it is noted that there are some interesting contests in the offing. Tonight, New Wilmington, section champions last year, but finding rough going this season, go to Princeton for a scrap. Tuesday will find Mt. Jackson's high-riding "dark horses" at Union high, New Wilmington at East Brook, and Bessemer in a non-league battle at Lovellville, O.

Ellwood At Farrell

Ellwood City's battered Wolverines, mathematically almost out of the Section III race, tangle with their third toughest opponent in a row when they trek to Farrell to tie with the unbeaten Steelers. Tudor Lewis has his charges on a three-game streak, unbeaten so far and conquerors of powerful Ambbridge last Friday. After whipping Beaver Falls, the "Wolves" hit snags in Ambbridge and Sharon. No doubt Howard Gills will juggle his lineup for the Farrell fray and try to get someone under the hoops with a scoring eye besides his ace, Big Joe Daugherty, who is the core of the Wolverine attack.

March Leads Scorers

In the most recent scoring capitulation accomplished by The News sports staff, Eddie March of the Wampum Indians is leading all the county scorers with a healthy 72 points. He is followed by Shenango's sensational "Lefty" Tanner, with 57.

The complete "Big Ten" list follows:

March	Wampum	72
C. Tanner	Shenango	57
Capable	Wampum	56
Shaffer	New Wilmington	50
Donafron	Bessemer	45
Douchette	Shenango	42
Whitaker	East Brook	40
Nelson	Bessemer	37
Kerr	Farrell	36
Majors	Princeton	35

Must Collect 21,000 Articles Per Week To Meet Goal In Lawrence County

"Don't forget to make your clothing donations to the Victory Clothing Collection this month," urged Austin Webb, chairman of the drive, "in order to meet our quota, we must collect 21,000 articles each week, and the totals for the first week of the drive has been 16,500 items, somewhat short of the goal."

Mr. Webb and the persons aiding him are working hard. We, the people of Lawrence County, must do our part, also, in order to reach the goal.

In all previous drives, including requests for clothing, paper, used cans and the sale of bonds, the people of this community have never failed to put the total over the top.

Born Collectors

"Every housewife is a naturally-born collector," said Mr. Webb, "that is why attics and cellars were invented. Not that the clothing and other things stored away in these places are always needed—it's just a natural desire to keep things, an instinct to hoard things for an emergency. Well, the emergency has arrived. Think it over, and search again through your closets, shelves, cellar and attic, and give all your unwanted items to a most deserving cause."

Residents are requested to ask themselves these two questions: "Do I really need this garment or this pair of shoes?" and "What will it mean to the person who received it in some foreign land?" You alone can answer the first question. The second answer is obvious. It will mean life, respect and happiness to the one who is the lucky recipient of your clothing.

Collection Points

Again persons are instructed to leave their bundles at their nearest fire station or at the headquarters at 6 East Washington street on the Public Square. If either of these two collection points is not convenient to you, call the nearest school and ask for one of the school children to pick up your bundle. As a last resort call the headquarters, 6546, giving your name and address, and someone will collect your items.

The next collection in the city schools will be January 15. Glenn McCracken will be the supervisor in charge of this collection.

Roy Conway, who has charge of the collections in the rural schools reports that the collection dates in the county districts will be January 13 and January 25. The Catholic schools will be ready to report their collection shortly.

"In all drives of the past the schools, Catholic, city and rural have more than done their part," Mr. Webb said. "They are doing it again this time. Remember—the rest of us must endeavor to do as much as the school children. If we do it will mean success."

GREGG NOW SUPERVISOR

Following the recent order of Judge John G. Lamoree, returning the count of the votes in the third precinct of Mahoning township to the status it was when the official return was made, Francis D. Gregg has been sworn in as a road supervisor. For a time it seemed that Anthony Micco had won the election when substantial error was found in the count of the third precinct. This recount was thrown out when it was decided the petitioners for the count, who lived in the second precinct, were not eligible.

In his opinion Judge Lamoree said the way was still open to open the box again and it is likely that a petition will be made to the court asking for the opening. In the meantime Mr. Gregg is serving as a road supervisor.

DIVORCES GRANTED

Three divorces were granted Saturday by the court. By Judge Abraham H. T. Porter from Amy Cooper, Rodney B. Porter from Mary H. Porter. By Judge Lamoree: John Golla from Ruth M. Golla.
